What is Concordia?

Founded in 1972, Concordia University, California, is a Christian liberal arts institution that develops the whole student and is committed to preparing students to become wise, honorable, and cultivated citizens.

Students learn how to overcome challenges, communicate clearly, understand various cultures, appreciate art and literature, know the Christian faith, and exercise servant leadership.

More than 2,300 undergraduate and graduate students are enrolled, and more than 90 percent receive financial aid.

Where is Concordia?

Concordia is a refreshing alternative to the anonymity of large universities.

The 70-acre hilltop campus is located in Irvine, California, which is one of the safest cities in the United States. The campus is minutes away from Laguna Beach, Newport Beach, and Disneyland.

Concordia uses state-of-the-art technologies in buildings like residence halls or classrooms in Robert Alan Grimm Hall; Concordia's technology bridges the gap between tech-savvy students and traditional liberal arts studies.

Who is Concordia?

Concordia's professors expect nothing less than the best in the classroom.

More than 75 percent of the faculty hold the top degree possible so that students receive intense questions, in-depth answers, and plenty of one-to-one attention. Academic advising helps students graduate in four years.

Bachelor of Arts degrees in 50 majors/minors can be found in the schools of arts and sciences, business and professional studies, Christ College/theology, and education.

Concordia, a member of the Concordia University System of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod (LCMS), is fully accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC).

Who are the Concordia Eagles?

Earning seven national Final Four appearances and three national championship titles in the last five years, Concordia athletics strives for excellence in Christian character, academic achievement, and team performance.

While posting a semifinal finish at the 2007 National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics National Tournament, Concordia's volleyball team earned the NAIA's Champions of Character Award for overall team conduct.

Why Concordia?

Concordia is a friendly campus—and each student becomes an integral part of it.

Activities to choose from include intercollegiate Eagles' athletics, intramural sports, theater, music, clubs, and Bible study. It's all part of a community that is active, caring, inquisitive, healthy, and creative.

Welcome to Concordia University

Faithful to Our Calling

As we begin our 35th academic year, we praise our good and gracious God for His many blessings to Concordia University. Since its founding, Concordia has remained faithful to her calling to serve the church and world by providing excellent academic programs in the context of a Christian, liberal arts education.

We at Concordia remain dedicated to providing all our students opportunities to grow academically and spiritually and to use what they learn to serve faithfully in their respective vocations and to fulfill the Great Commission of Jesus Christ.

The theme verse chosen by this year's senior class reminds us who ultimately leads us and emphasizes the privilege that is ours to tell everyone about our Leader: "But thanks be to God, who in Christ always leads us in triumphal procession and through us spreads the fragrance of the knowledge of Him everywhere" (2 Corinthians 2:14).

We invite you to use this Catalog to learn more about what a Concordia education has to offer and then to consider becoming a part of the Concordia family, a family dedicated to glorifying God as we learn and work to serve others.

2010 Season Outlook

Coming off a 2009 campaign that seemed to end prematurely in the first round of Golden State Athletic Conference Playoffs, the Eagles have reloaded with 11 newcomers for a 2010 season that begins Aug. 20 against Evergreen State (WA).

The bad news is that second-year head coach Chris Gould will need to replace the bulk of his starting lineup from a year ago, but the good news is that he'll won't need to look far to make up for lost talent.

Of the eight returners who are in line to claim a starting position by the start of the season, only two—including senior goalkeeper Mike Radchuk—started a majority of the games a year ago, meaning that Gould's 2010 starting lineup will be made up primarily of his 2009 bench.

"The goal of this team is to establish a new identity," Gould said. "Last year, we were senior-heavy and a lot of guys didn't get their chance because of the big names that were playing ahead of them. They saw what happened last year, so this group as a whole is going to be hungry for success. They're going to be a different type of team, but I think overall, they'll be better."

One of the most experienced returners who makes the move from the bench to the starting 11 will be senior midfielder Mickey Mendoza, who enters the new year with three goals scored in 51 career appearances.

Fellow senior Carlos Suarez figures to see more time on the field after scoring five goals in his previous 44 games in an Eagles uniform, while second-year Eagle forward Roi Castro returns to the starting lineup after scoring four goals as a 2009 transfer junior.

"We lost our backline and our midfield line to graduation and guys just moving on, so guys are starting to fill in," Gould said. "Adam Hoffman and Jeff Coulter are starting to fill in this team in a huge way. Brandon Rigoni has been a very pleasant surprise, and Neal Langston has been as well. These are guys who didn't really get a chance before, but they're really grabbing a hold of their chance. They won't stop until the group is successful."

Hoffman, Coulter, Rigoni and Langston come into the season after averaging just over 8.5 games per year as a group in their previous seasons, but they will be counted on to form a major part of the Eagles' defensive alignment in front of Radchuk, who held opponents to a 1.13 goals-against average in 2009.

Incoming junior defender Armando Padilla will help anchor the defense after starting at state junior college champion Mt. San Antonio College over the past two years.

His defensive help will be complimented by the scoring punch anticipated from junior midfielder/forward William Velasquez, who transfers in after a standout two-year stint at Los Angeles Mission College.

"Armando Padilla and Willy Velasquez are two players that change this group," Gould said. "They are two very special players, and we're lucky to have them. They are both leaders on the field, not so much with what they say, but more with the exciting impact they're going to have."

Senior Alex Picarelli figures to gain playing time over his eight starts a year ago, and he will be joined in the midfield by Mendoza, as well as

Head Coach Chris Gould

After playing for two years in an Eagles' uniform and graduating with both his bachelor's ('07) and master's ('09) degrees from Concordia, Chris Gould begins his second season as Concordia's first-ever Director of Soccer.

Gould, in his first head coaching position at the collegiate level, is a United States Soccer Federation (USSF) 'A' license holder and spent two seasons as the top assistant at Irvine Valley College and has served as an age-group head coach for the Irvine Strikers for the past four years.

As a player at Concordia, Gould scored 16 goals—including five game-winners—and tallied 42 points, as he helped the Eagles win their first-ever Golden State Athletic Conference title in 2005.

He was named team captain and MVP of the national championship title-winning team at Irvine Valley College in 2003, and served as team captain while at Concordia.

Gould also spent the 2006 and 2007 campaigns as a graduate assistant while finishing up his bachelor's degree in entrepreneurship.

He earned a Master of Business Administration, finishing in 2009.

Gould and his wife, Dara, were married June 26, 2009 and currently reside in Huntington Beach.

Coach Cheyne Gordon

In his second season as an assistant coach for both the men's and women's teams, Cheyne Gordon serves under his former teammate in Director of Soccer Chris Gould.

Gordon, who earned his bachelor's from Concordia in 2005, is currently coaching for the Irvine Strikers. In the past he has coached in the RSM Storm and Orange County Blue Star club programs.

He also served as a varsity men's assistant coach for Canyon High School from 2002-2004.

A four-year player at Concordia, Gordon served as a team captain. He scored 15 goals and racked up 46 career points thanks to 16 assists—which ranks No. 4 on the school charts.

Gordon is married with two children (Kendall & Jonah) and resides in Anaheim Hills.

Coach Mike Oseguera

After serving the past year as a graduate assistant for Concordia's men's and women's soccer teams, Mike Oseguera begins his first year as a full-time assistant coach for both programs.

A four-year student-athlete at NCAA Div. I University of California Berkley, Oseguera was named an All-Pac-10 honorable mention as a 2003 sophomore, and he was on the Pac-10 championship team in 2006.

At Cal, Oseguera trained under former U.S. National Team goalkeeper Henry Foulk, who has sent five goalkeepers to the professional level in only eight years. Oseguera played 18 games as a redshirt freshman in 2003 and posted a 0.96 goals-against average.

Oseguera began his coaching career as a goalkeeper coach and graduate assistant at Cal State Fullerton in 2007, and coached at Patedores FC in 2007-08. He currently serves as goalkeeper coach for Irvine Strikers Soccer Club.

A standout at Marina High School in Huntington Beach, Oseguera currently serves as an assistant and goalkeeper coach for Premier Development League member Orange County Blue Stars.

Oseguera holds a Class "D" license and has trained goalkeepers who have played at eight different four-year institutions, including University of San Diego and Virginia Tech.

Oseguera lives in Huntington Beach, where he attends Calvary Chapel Refuge.

Coach Adrian Martinez

After playing out his collegiate career as a four-year starter at Concordia, Adrian Martinez begins his first year as part of the coaching staff, as a graduate assistant for the men's and women's programs.

Martinez played in 81 games over his career, where he was twice named to the All-Golden State Athletic Conference team.

He dealt out 19 assists, which ranks fourth on the all-time charts, and also chipped in four goals while in an Eagles uniform.

A 2010 graduate from Concordia, Martinez is currently pursuing a master's degree in coaching and athletics administration at Concordia.

senior Mike Sweeney and sophomore Aaron Kasser. Freshman Neil Anaya could find himself securing a key reserve role along the way.

The offensive third could include a combination of Velasquez, Suarez, Castro and senior Bruno Sad, with sophomore Julio Suarez coming off the bench.

The team's outstanding depth, which includes even the goalkeeper position itself, with junior James Ram-melsberg available to spell Radchuk, could be the team's most potent weapon of the 2010 campaign.

"This year, the strength of the team is the team itself," Gould said. "Everybody has bought into each other, and I think that the guys this year refuse to lose a game.

"The guys are very hungry and they're going to compete for everything they get. This is a team that should win the close, ugly games. They'll find a way to win. It's a special group"
